SOURCE

- Clandestine contact has been established with unidentified leaders of the National Peasant Party who are presently in prison. Some of these imprisoned leaders appear to be supplying advice for and direction to certain political activities of a clandestine character which are being carried on by some members of the National Peasant Party and others.
- 2. These imprisoned leaders have ordered that anti-Semitism among Rumanians must be curbed. They are said to be indifferent to the activities abroad of General Nicolae Radescu and to be annoyed at the address delivered before the meeting of the European Movement in Brussels by Grigore Gafencu.
- 25X1X The imprisoned leaders are reported to be in as good health as could be anticipated in view of prison conditions.
